GRAND JURY WORK DELAYED DAY

J. D. M'DONALD RESIDENT HERE SINCE '76, DIES

Attack of Appendicitis Proves Fatal to Well Known Citizen of Bismarck

ILL A SHORT TIME

One of Earliest Residents,
And Served in Council and
On School Board

James D. McDonald, who saw Bismarck grow from a frontier hamlet to a modern city and who aided in the development, passed away at a local hospital shortly after midnight. His death came as a shock to many close friends, as Mr. McDonald had been in excellent health until last Monday. On Friday an operation for appendicitis was performed, the appendix having burst, and it was thought that he was going to rally but failed suddenly during the night. Mr. McDonald was 69 years of age.

Mr. McDonald came to Bismarck in 1876 and had been a resident here ever since. During his long residence he always had great faith in the community and contributed liberally to its upbuilding. He came from Glenora, Ontario, a county famed in Ralph Connor's stories, and from which county came a number of men and women prominent in the development of this section.

For several years Mr. McDonald was connected with the Northwest Stage Company, which operated the Black Hills stage, and remained with that company until it was moved from here. Later he owned a carriage and blacksmith shop on Fourth street where the Hinkley block now stands. Living in the eastern part of the city in the early days he helped to build up that section. Of later years he lived at 211 Second street. He also owned farming interests near Nenoken and south of Bismarck, and retained the farm at the time of his death. As a member of the school board and city council, those associated with Mr. McDonald say, he always was moved by a spirit of faith in the city and honesty in the conduct of its affairs. He was a devoted member of St. Mary's Catholic church, and always had been a liberal supporter of the church.

After having been in Bismarck for about four years, Mr. McDonald made a trip back to Ontario and married Miss Katherine McCormick. Two children, Dr. J. A. McDonald, of Cando and Dan McDonald, living south of the city, were born to them. Mrs. McDonald passed away about 1890. Mr. McDonald was married again to Miss Katherine Brady, who with his sons, survive. Mr. McDonald was one of a family of six boys and eight girls, and he is the second to pass away. The brothers and sisters living are: Norman, Bismarck; Archie, British Columbia; Angus, Tacoma, Wash.; Dan, Alberta; Duncan, Montreal; Mrs. Edward Shaughnessy, who will be remembered as Elsie McDonald, and Mrs. Michael McDonald, both of Montreal; Mrs. Rory McDonald, Alexandria, Ontario; Mrs. D. J. McDonald, of Glenn, Robertson, Ontario; Mrs. Alex. McDonald of Bridgend, Ontario; Mrs. John McDonald of Delahausi, Ontario; Mrs. Duncan McCrae, State Line Mills, Pa.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning at St. Mary's church. The body may be viewed by friends at the residence, 211 Second street, until the funeral.

24 INJURED WHEN TRAIN IS DERAILED

(By the Associated Press)
Omaha, Dec. 5.—Twenty-four passengers on Washburn train No. 14, which left Omaha for St. Louis last night, were more or less seriously hurt and nearly a hundred others shocked and slightly bruised when the engine, through train of the Washburn, was derailed through some unknown cause about six miles north of Shenandoah, Iowa.

The train was speeding along at 50 miles an hour and had just crossed a bridge over a creek when the tender of the locomotive sprang from the track. Three coaches followed the tender and in plunging off the track turned over. Nearly 150 yards of track was torn up.

The majority of the passengers were able to continue on their way to St. Louis.

RECOVER BONDS.
Chicago, Dec. 5.—Recovery of $21,000 in Argentine bonds stolen in a mail robbery in New York in October, 1921, started the police today in a search for a man who played them.

MRS. OBENCHAIN RELEASED FROM JAIL AFTER EIGHT MONTHS OF INCARCERATION

These photos, the one at the left taken years ago, the other recently, show how little effect 18 months in jail have had upon Madalynne Obenchain, whose charms once made her the reigning Belle of Northwestern Day on the charge of murdering her Sweetheart, J. Belton Kennedy, in Los Angeles.

NEA Staff Correspondent
Los Angeles, Dec. 5.—Eighteen months in jail have not marred the striking beauty of Madalynne Obenchain, one-time belle of Northwestern University campus, who was released today.

Madalynne, at 29, is still in appearance the Madalynne of her college days. Yet she has gone through an emotional gamut during the last year and a half that should wrinkle the face of many a "stronger person." Jail rats have figured weirdly as in gauge of her changing mental states.

"I share the common feminine horror of these pests," she said. "But I was so stunned during my first trial that rats coming into my cell and crawling over my bed and hands failed even to produce a shiver."

COMFORT IN SOCRATES
"Whenever my courage falters in the long wait for vindication I read Socrates' life in prison," said Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain. "I am then again heartened by the heroic attitude of this old martyr who drank the poison cup with a deathless toast."

"Oscar Wilde's prison experiences, too, have helped sustain me." And a few days ago Al Jennings gave me an autographed copy of his book, "Through the Shadows with O. Henry."

"From my cell I salute these men of the prisoned fraternity for the comfort their words have brought me!"

EMPLOYMENT OF COUNSEL TO BE ASKED

Special Commerce Counsel
Held Necessary by Rail
Commission
Appropriation by the legislature to permit employment of commerce counsel versed in railroad and utility practice will be asked, the state railroad commission announcing it would join in the recommendation made by Attorney General Johnson in his annual report. Increase of necessary expenditures before the Interstate Commerce Commission and public utility cases in federal court necessitate such aid, according to members of the commission.

The commission also will ask appropriation to permit employment of two assistant engineers and a telephone supervisor, it was stated. Chairman Miholof declared the commission was two years behind with its work, as a result of inefficient appropriations on two years ago.

A case involving telephone rates of the state has been in federal court for a year and a half because the state was not sufficient money to carry it on in all details, he said. The case of Minot recently paid out $750 for accountants to aid in the electric rate case of that city which is pending in federal court.

CHANGE DATES.
Washington, Dec. 5.—The postoffice department today announced revision in the date and places of several state postal conference conventions to be held next year. Among the changes were: Bismarck, N. D., May 19, changed to July 9; Sioux Falls, S. D., May 22, changed to July 11.

BURCH WILL FACE INSANITY PROCEEDINGS

In Psychopathic Ward of County Hospital for Observation

INDICTMENTS NOLLED

(By the Associated Press)
Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 5.—Arthur C. Burch of Evanston, Ill., tried three times for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was in the psychopathic ward of the county hospital today, awaiting an insanity hearing Thursday before the Los Angeles county lunacy commission.

He was taken there last night from the county jail after the dismissing of the indictment charging him and Mrs. Madalynne C. Obenchain, also of Evanston, with the murder of her former sweetheart and after the filing of insanity proceedings against him by his chief counsel, Paul Schenck.

It was said, Mrs. Obenchain would be a guest for a short time at least, at the residence of one of the jail matrons, to whose house she was escorted last night by her chief counsel, Jud Rush.

MRS. PHILLIPS IN THRILLING JAIL ESCAPE

Woman Convicted of Hammer
Murder Saws Through
To Liberty

(By the Associated Press)
Los Angeles, Dec. 5.—Clara Phillips climbed out a window in the women's section of the county jail and escaped early today. She was under a sentence of ten years to life imprisonment after conviction for the hammer murder of Albertina Meadows. She was held in the jail pending formulation of an appeal.

With the aid of several steel saws her escape was effected at 2 a. m. according to a report to the sheriff by the jailer. Belief was expressed that she had been aided by other inmates. Bars were sawed through and after crawling out the window, she dropped to the roof of an adjoining building, climbed down the fire escape and disappeared.

The escape was not discovered by jail authorities for several hours. The matron, in making rounds, saw the bed in Mrs. Phillips' cell vacant. The matron then discovered the sawed and twisted bars and notified the jailer.

The former chorus girl, who was found guilty of what prosecuting officials declared to be one of the most brutal murders they have had to try, effected her liberty with a tragic suddenness equal to that with which the hammer slaying was revealed last July. It is believed she escaped in an automobile.

CLEMENCEAU PREPARES TO CAPTURE CAPITAL

Tiger in Washington to Win
Leaders to France's
Cause

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 5.—Georges Clemenceau was up before dawn today eager for his first glimpse by daylight of the capital where he expects to put in during the next four days some stiff blows in behalf of an understanding between France and the United States such as he had hoped for in the tri-partite agreement of the Versailles peace conference.

It was dusk when he arrived late yesterday and he obtained only a glimpse of the city as he was taken by automobile to the Crescent Place home of Henry White, former ambassador to France and one of America's peace commissioners at Versailles, who is his host during his Washington visit.

First on his program for today was a visit to the White House where he was expected President Harding would receive him at 10 o'clock. Immediately thereafter the Tiger planned to call on former President Wilson, his colleague in the framing of treaty of Versailles. He was then to be the luncheon guest at the home of Mr. White where he expected to meet Secretaries Hughes and Mellon.

George Clemenceau paid his respects today to President Harding. Arriving at the White House three minutes before 10 o'clock the hour at which the President was to receive him, he was ushered immediately into the executive office.

A small crowd which had gathered outside the White House grounds, applauded Clemenceau as he arrived.

Late tomorrow the war time premier will call on former President Wilson, with whom he sat in the council of the big five at Versailles.

STARTS 98TH YEAR WITH 3RD SET OF TEETH

London, Dec. 5.—Harry Gardner turned his ninety-eighth year today possessed of a third set of teeth and rejuvenated eye light. A year ago Mr. Gardner was forced to eat soft foods and wear glasses, but the only physical defect from which he now suffers is poor hearing. Physicists say that he is beginning to develop new tissue.

SPANKING WEEK IS ADVOCATED

New York, Dec. 5.—An "old-fashioned spanking" week, with careful, prayerful spanking was recommended in an address by M. A. Smith, Alford at the eighteenth annual meeting of the Big Brothers and Sisters, last night.

BANDITS GET CONTROL OF LARGE PORTS

Chinese Pirates Demand
$100,000 Ransom From Government

SHOPS ARE LOOTED

Police Sent from Peking to Quiet Rioting Are Driven
Away

Tien Tsin, China, Dec. 5.—Reports received here say that Chinese bandits have taken control of Tsingtao, Shantung, the Kiaoo Chow port, whose stormy career in war and diplomacy was to culminate today in its return to China after 24 years of alien rule, the first 16 under Germany and the last eight under Japan. The population is reported fleeing from the city.

Trains from Tsingtao were said to be crowded with refugees. Chinese police sent from Peking to take over the city are reported to have been driven out of their barracks.

The bandits, according to the telegrams, demands $100,000 ransom for the delivery of government officials and police in their hands. They also hold out for the appointment of their chief as governor of the port.

Shops and residences are being looted nightly, the dispatches say. The 20,000 Japanese who remain in Tsingtao, unorganized for defending the city apparently are impotent in the face of the menace.

This was the day set for the actual delivery of the Kiaochow territory from Japan to China, under the terms of the Washington armament conference. The region was seized by Germany in 1898, as indemnity for losses in the Boxer uprising. At the outbreak of the world war, Japan captured it and was awarded it at the peace conference at Versailles, but in conversations with China at the Washington conference, agreed to turn it back this winter.

SEE COLLAPSE OF CONFERENCE AT LAUSANNE

Turkey and Europe Apparently Have Drifted Apart on Major Issues

RUSSIA TO THE FRONT

Lausanne, Dec. 5.—Turkey and Europe have apparently drifted so far apart on the great issues of the Near East conference that the pessimists have a fruitful field for unhappy prognostication of a complete collapse of the pourparlers and the resumption of war in southeastern Europe.

Such a culmination of the conference discussions could easily argue as a strong possibility, but any such argument based on a reasonable hypothesis would leave out the fact that Europe needs peace and that Turkey has constantly proclaimed her need for building up international relations in acquiring capital to develop her immense resources.

The frenzied character of yesterday's proceedings in which Russia came to the fore as the willing champion of Turkish autonomy, is indicative of the extreme nervousness of Europe and the general unsettled conditions which provoked feelings of genuine despair on the part of the conference leaders.

So long as no actual break occurs, there is hope that time will bring conciliatory views. That the worst is anticipated, is shown by the appearance here of a suggestion that a general war could be launched against Turkey by the league of nations. Such a resort to force, it is suggested, might take on the form of a sort of crusade through the issuance of an appeal for the help of all nations so that the war could end quickly.

The Turks are insisting that the European powers should be the first to set forth their desires in the Dardanelles problem, because the straits after all belong to Turkey and the Turk should be master of his own house. The nationalist delegates reiterate their conciliatory intentions.

Although the extent nations and the United States have not publicly stated their views Russia's proposal for the exclusion of foreign warships from the straits, which seems to correspond to the Turkish position, undoubtedly will not be accepted. It is almost certain that the powers will insist on the right of free passage. For war craft although they may perhaps be willing to restrict tonnage.

WINTER IN DEBUT OVER NORTHWEST

Havre, Mont., Coldest With
Temperature of 16
Below

COLD IN SUNNY SOUTH

Most North Dakota Points
Register from 4 to 8
Below

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Dec. 5.—Winter today made its determined onslaught of the season, spreading a trail of zero temperatures through the northwest and plain states and a decided drop in temperature as far south as Texas and Tennessee in the southwest. Helena, Montana with a temperature around 5 degrees below zero was reported the coldest place in the north. Sub-zero temperature was recorded throughout Montana, North Dakota and parts of Minnesota, with Havre, Montana announcing 16 degrees below; Williston, N. D. 8 below; Grand Forks 12 below and Fargo eight below.

The southern rocky mountain states were warned to prepare for drops in temperature from 15 to 20 degrees, attended by slight snow flurries.

While practically all of Montana, Minnesota and North Dakota were experiencing sudden downward jumps in the thermometer, St. Paul, Minn., and immediate vicinity were enjoying a comparatively mild temperature.

Throughout the upper Mississippi valley the breath of winter was manifest in a biting wind that sent the mercury toward zero and the weather forecasts indicated this wave would spread to the lower lake region and the Atlantic and east gulf states, with the exception of Florida, by tonight or Wednesday.

NEW LOW POINT.

Aberdeen, S. D., Dec. 5.—The mercury dropped to a new low point for the season last night, reaching zero. The temperature fell steadily yesterday afternoon.

BURIED UNDER GALE.

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 5.—A 40-mile an hour gale from the northwest drove the temperature from 35 degrees above at 3 p. m. yesterday to four below at 7 a. m. today, the coldest Duluth has experienced this winter. When the temperature dropped 28 degrees in four hours late yesterday, the icy blast cemented a layer of damp snow to the sidewalks and pavements and traffic proceeded with difficulty today.

CHECK UP SHIPS.

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 5.—Vessels today were checking in every port on Lake Superior to determine the location of several ships caught by last night's gale, one of the worst of the many which have been making life miserable for skippers and owners alike. So far no casualties have been reported.

Blowing from the northwest, the wind reached a velocity of 40 miles an hour shortly before midnight and held above the 30-mile mark until 2 a. m., the local United States weather bureau reported.

Coal and grain carriers, far behind schedule due to the heavy late seas on movement to the docks, are finding it hard to make headway because of the numerous storms, vessels declared.

RESIST EFFORT OF SRAUSS TO KEEP OUT OF N. D.

The efforts of Ben Strauss, wanted in Ruby, Pierce county, in connection with bank robbery and grand larceny charges to escape extradition to North Dakota, will be resisted at St. Paul tomorrow by Attorney General Johnson and State's Attorney H. B. Nelson of Pierce county.

Strauss, arrested in Iowa, was taken off the train at Long Prairie, Minn., by a court order after he had said he would return to North Dakota without extradition papers being issued. Attorney General Johnson said. The matter was appealed to the Minnesota supreme court, and Mr. Nelson, who has been in Minnesota on the case, will be joined by the attorney general.

HOSPITAL HEADS MEET.

Rochester, Minn., Dec. 5.—The annual convention of the Minnesota and North Dakota Catholic Hospital association opened here this morning with 50 representatives from both states present, and more expected to arrive on late trains.

Right Rev. Patrick Heffernan of Winona opened the convention. Other speakers at the morning session included Sister M. Olivia of St. Mary's Hospital, Duluth.

North of Hudson Bay there are 40,000 square miles of practically unknown territory.

BLAUCHISTHERIUM SKELETON FOUND BY SCIENTIST

Supposed to Have Roamed
Desert Two Million
Years Ago

(By the Associated Press.)
San Francisco, Dec. 5.—Discovery of a second specimen of the Blauchistherium, a long extinct mammal which roamed the Mongolian desert ages ago, is announced here by J. H. Shufeldord of the American Museum Natural History, who arrived from the orient in the steamer President Pierce.

Shufeldord, who was in charge of photography for the third Asiatic expedition, said the skeleton, of the prehistoric animal was on its way to the United States to be set up in the museum for study. The expedition was in Mongolia five months.

According to the scientist the skeletons of the Gobi desert on Mongolia are the richest find for paleontologists for a long time. Many specimens of prehistoric animals are to be found there, he declared.

The Blauchistherium is supposed to have roamed the desert two million years ago. It was so large, Professor Shufeldord said, that it took two men to lift its funny bone from the earth.

AUTONOMY FOR IRELAND AWAITS KING

HEALY ACCEPTS POST

New Governor General
Prepares to Enter Upon
His Duties

KING APPROVES.

(By the Associated Press.)
London, Dec. 5.—King George's this evening gave royal sanction to the legislation setting up the Irish Free State as a dominion of the British empire.

HEALY APPOINTED.

(By the Associated Press.)
London, Dec. 5.—Official announcement was made this afternoon of the appointment of Timothy Healy as first governor general of the Irish Free State.

(By the Associated Press.)
London, Dec. 5.—Without pomp or ceremony the Irish Free State will come into being after midnight tonight.

By a special order in council the full administration of the country already has been handed over to the provisional government. Therefore when the constitution comes into existence tomorrow there will be no ceremony of any kind to mark the fulfillment of the treaty made between the British and Irish governments.

(By the Associated Press.)

London, Dec. 5.—Autonomous government for Ireland today lacked only the formal assent of King George to the Irish constitution bill. The Anglo-Irish treaty expires tomorrow when the provisional government will cease to function and the free state government will officially take charge. The first meeting of the Dail-eireann as the lower house of the Oireachtas, or Irish parliament, has been fixed for 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Meanwhile the dail will sit privately to choose thirty members of the Seanad eireann or senate. The choice will be made from about 150 candidates and the selections will be announced tomorrow.

Timothy Healy, who yesterday confirmed in an interview his acceptance of the governor generalship of the Irish free state, will be in Dublin on the night boat after consultations at the colonial office which are understood to have been satisfactory to both parties.

Arrangements for the evacuation of all British troops remaining in free state territory are going forward, and it is understood that the last of the military will have left by December 18.

Although the appointment of the new governor general of Ireland has not been announced, the report that the Duke of Abercorn would be the choice seems likely to prove accurate.

JUDGE FISK APPOINTED.
Judge Charles E. Fisk of Minneapolis has been appointed a member of the state bar board to succeed H. C. Puy of Grafton, resigned.

The year between the ages of 25 and 40 seem to pass more quickly than any other period of life.

ALL MEMBERS ANSWER WHEN CALL IS MADE

Judge Coffey Will Instruct
Jurors in Court Tomorrow
Afternoon

WAY IS CLEARED

Criminal Cases Removed From
Calendar, Giving States
Attorney Time

Instruction of the grand jury summoned in Burleigh county and beginning of its deliberations were postponed this afternoon until tomorrow afternoon at 2 p. m. by Judge J. A. Coffey, after the names of the 18 members of the grand jury had been called and all answered to their names.

Judge Coffey was unable to begin court until 2 p. m. today, and call of the petit jury and other business took up most of the afternoon. The petit jury was accused until tomorrow morning. Some who have been notified to appear for jury service did not appear, and Judge Coffey said further inquiry would be made in the morning.

Court was delayed somewhat today, Judge Coffey was unable to begin court until 2 p. m. today, and call of the calendar, which contains 98 civil cases for the December term. He opened court at 2 p. m. and began the calendar call. Forty-four members of the petit jury, including two women, were present, and the 18 grand jurors.

States Attorney Free
States Attorney McCurdy will be free to give all his time to the grand jury, and will not be tied up in court cases as was expected. The States Attorney may therefore conduct the grand jury proceedings without a special assistant. While there were some criminal cases on the calendar, in which pleas have been entered and which do not have to go to the grand jury, Judge Coffey put them over and also civil cases in which the States Attorney was interested, on request of the States Attorney.

It was a question how far the court would get today, as the calendar call usually is a lengthy proceeding.

DIRECT VOTE ON PRESIDENT IS PROPOSED

Members of Progressive Bloc
Win First Victory in Congress

Washington, Dec. 5.—Members of the new progressive bloc in congress won their first legislative victory today by obtaining from senate agriculture committee a favorable report of a resolution to amend the constitution to provide for direct election of the president and vice-president.

The amendment would also change presidential inauguration from March 4 to the third Monday in January and members of the senate and house would begin their terms of office the first Monday in January after the biennial elections. Congress would meet, in regular session annually on the first Monday in January.

The Ashurst resolution on which the judiciary sub-committee held a hearing, provides that Presidents are to be inaugurated in January after their election and that the new congress every two years is to convene the same month, the present final December session of congress to be abolished.

Senator Ashurst appeared to urge adoption of the amendment he proposed, as did William Lowell Putnam, Boston attorney, on behalf of the American Bar Association, which has endorsed the plan.

Slow transportation and other reasons for the present constitutional plan no longer exist, Senator Ashurst and Mr. Putnam said.

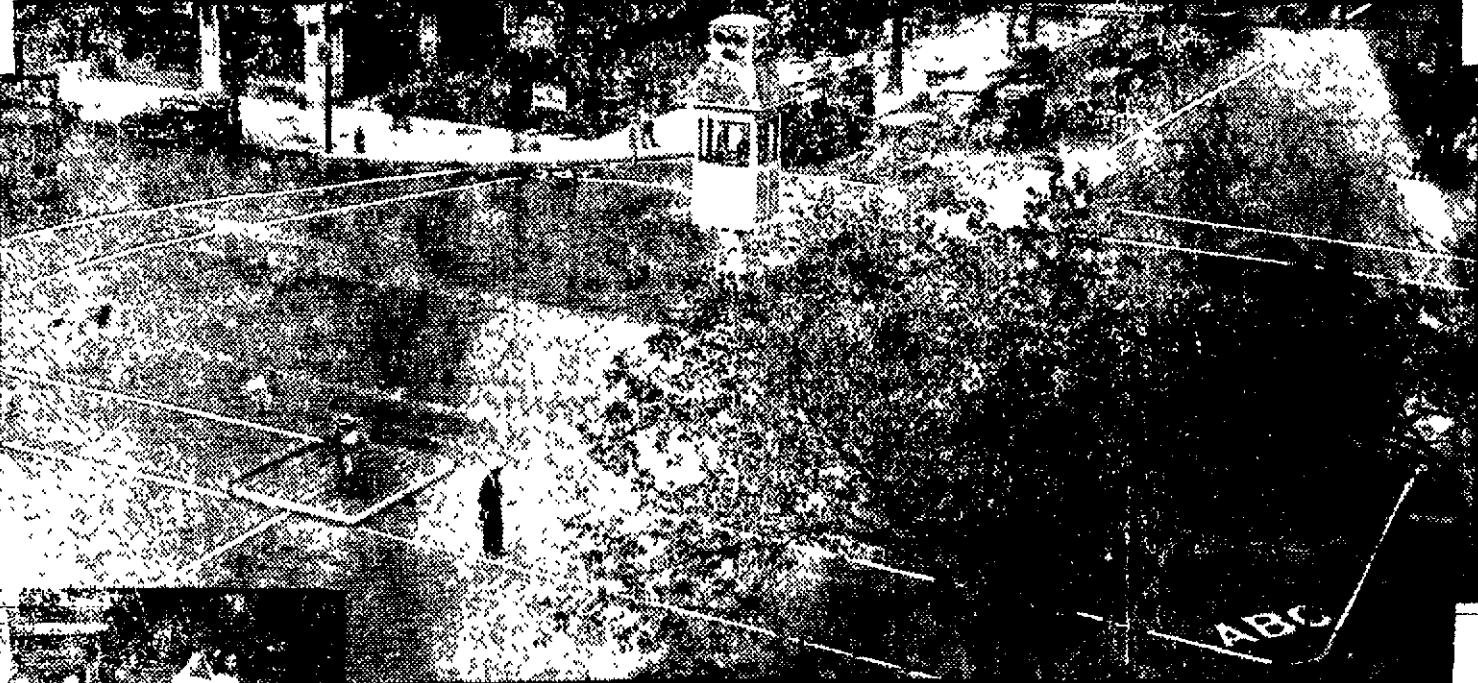

BOARD TAKES NO ACTION

No action was taken by the board of administration here when it discussed the matter of quarters at the Agricultural College for the state grain grading department created in the initiated law.

"At the present time it would be improner for the board to make any recommendation that would conflict with the expressed intent of act of 3 of the initiated measure, in the opinion" Chairman R. B. Murphy of the board said.

DETROIT SETS U. S. SAFETY RECORD

STRENUOUS CAMPAIGN CUTS TRAFFIC DEATH TOLL ALMOST IN HALF

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 5.—While automobile fatalities and accidents are decreasing appallingly in most American cities, in Detroit, the number is steadily being decreased. This in spite of Detroit's narrow streets, with their 10,000 intersections offering many natural hazards, including those of irregularly shaped corners and turns. This, too, in spite of the fact that the city is undrugged in size since the automobile came into general use, and but every seventh person in Detroit owns and operates an automobile—one of the highest ownership proportions in the country.

tion, is another powerful factor in Detroit's safety progress. Appointed to office, he began giving jail terms and heavy fines to traffic violators. He has sentenced more than 700 to jail. Detroit showed its approval by overwhelmingly re-electing him this fall.

Recently, Bartlett began escorting speeders through the hospitals and morgue, where they could see the victims of the careless driver. The lesson had a far-reaching effect.

Incompetent drivers have been eliminated through the police conducting a written or oral examination and a practical demonstration of driving ability before a driver's license can be secured.

"Traffic regulation and methods are 50 years behind the times and a lot of us will never catch up with them," says Dr. J. W. Inghes, Detroit's police commissioner. "But if we can't catch up, we must see that our children can."

Lewis F. Crawford Publishes Interesting and Valuable Addition to State's Books

Striking stories of romance and adventure of the Old West are told in Lewis F. Crawford's Bismarck in a volume soon to be published, "Badlands and Bunches of Trail." The name of Mr. Crawford's volume, which reflects not only his personal experience in long residence in Sentinel Butte but also careful and painstaking study and collection of the lore of North Dakota's famous wild and beautiful "Badlands."

All of the adventure and lore of mystery contained in the very word "Badlands" is preserved in Mr. Crawford's volume which also is valuable because of the studious attention paid to historical accuracy in the attractive sketches. Written in vigorous style, it is a vivid portrayal, and is lightened with humorous and touching incidents. It is illustrated with two-tone copper half-tones which supplement the subject matter admirably.

The volume will have a substantial, tasteful art-craft binding, and will be printed on heavy weight, shell book paper, with semi-deckled edge. In both make-up and content, it will make a suitable gift and be a valuable possession for the library or book shelf. The book is from the Tribune press. Full information concerning the volume may be obtained from Mr. Crawford.

WOULD SAVE RENT PAID ON POSTOFFICES

Deficit in Postal Service Is Cut More than 20 Millions

INCREASE IN RECEIPTS

Poor Addresses Cost Public More Than $423,000 Yearly

Washington, Dec. 5.—The campaign for government ownership of post-office buildings throughout the country was renewed by Postmaster General Work in his annual report to Congress.

Not only would a policy of public ownership relieve the government of much of its present housing congestion, the Postmaster General said, but it would make the financial economy since rentals of more than $12,000,000 now being paid over annually without tangible return could be invested instead in property of a permanent value.

Government owned buildings, he pointed out, are free from taxation, while the government, as a lessee must pay enough rent to enable the landlord to meet his tax bills. If the same way be asserted that where money is practically a four per cent basis to build postoffices, when it leases it "pays a rental sufficient to permit the lessee to borrow money at seven per cent, and in some cases as much as ten per cent."

Other legislation recommended by the Postmaster General included passage of the bill pending in the House to increase the interest rate on Postal Savings Bonds from two to three per cent and the rate on Postal Savings Bonds from two and a half to three and a half per cent; establishment of a system of pensions for postal employees who have been in the service more than thirty years; re-classification of departmental employees; a salary re-adjustment to permit full pay for overtime; authorization for motor-vehicle rural mail route up to seventy-five miles in length; maintenance of a guaranty fund, derived from assessments levied upon postal officials accountable for funds and property, to make good losses from the failure of such officials to properly perform their duties, and to take the place of the present bonding system; imposition of additional postage on improperly or insufficiently addressed mail; and the extension of insurance

Detroit's cure for traffic evils? Efficient traffic regulation, including many effective innovations, and gradual education.

Traffic safety education in Detroit is decidedly intensive. The whole town is "schooled" on the subject. You hear it discussed where you go. Traffic and police department chiefs cannot walk more than a block without being stopped by some citizen with an idea for reducing traffic jams or accidents.

The women's clubs discuss traffic safety. Much of the time of the Detroit Safety Council is given to it. In the schools, the safety idea is so connected with school work that there are safety games, safety drills and contests between schools with prizes for those having the lowest percentage of automobile accidents.

and collect-on-delivery privileges to third class mail.

Reviewing the departments activities during the last fiscal year, Mr. Work reported that a reduction of $20,571,986 in the deficit of the department had been effected by economies in administration.

Notwithstanding the decrease, the deficit is still large, the report said, and unless revenues increase in greater ratio to expenses there is little hope of materially reducing it in view of fixed charges over which the department has no control.

During the fiscal year there was an increase of $21,322,256 in postal receipts, but expenditures were only $780,835 in excess of those of last year. Considering losses of postal funds through fire, burglary and other causes, the deficit for the year was $60,815,400.

The average per capita expenditure for postage during the fiscal year was $3.92. Mr. Work reported, making a total of postage collected through stamps alone $391,159,418. Matter mailed without fixture of stamps aggregated $41,402,691. Total receipts were 5.16 per cent over those of the previous year. The public bought 14,261,348,813 postage stamps, 57,401,250 special delivery stamps and 1,111,121 190 postal cards.

Postal savings deposits and outstanding stamps at the end of the year totaled $146,430,167, compared to $155,007,543.65 a year previous, the curve of deposits and withdrawals following the same line among the country's savers.

Appointment of postmaster has become current, as nearly as the Service laws permit, and of the 492 presidential appointments, 315 were confirmed by the Senate, 1165 were of women and 938 of former service men of the world war.

The constantly extending Rural Delivery Service continued to take the place of the fourth-class post-offices. The rapid reduction in post-offices in recent years is shown by the fact that there were in the United States and its possessions on July 1, 1922, 51,947 postoffices, compared with 75,924 on June 30, 1902, a decrease of almost one-third in 20 years.

During the year city delivery service, were established in 70 additional postoffices, affording this advantage to 1,045,350 additional people. City delivery is now in operation on 2,229 offices.

Neglect to properly address letters and parcels cost the public more than $422,000 during the year. Matter sent to the Dead Letter office, however, decreases sixteen per cent.

Mails were carried by air over a distance of 1,727,236 miles and 48,983,920 letters were delivered by the Air Mail Service without a single fatality or serious accident to aircraft.

The one death in the entire service was that of a pilot "ferrying" an empty plane between points.

A total of 121 new rural delivery routes were organized, extending delivery to 694,930 families. There are now 44,148 rural routes, supplying more than 29,700,000 individuals, over a length of 1,180,448 miles.

Letters Post packages handled, totaled 41,051,089 and the postage collected on them was $5,737,299.

Mail carried postage free under the privilege of the various governmental agencies reached a total of 435,000,000 pieces, and the Postmaster General estimated that had they been paid for at the ordinary rates they would have netted an additional income of $10,897,387.

Fargo, N. D.—E. R. Root, head of the Ohio, nationally known as an authority on bee culture will address a meeting of North Dakota Honey Producers at the Agricultural College here December 11, according to R. L. Webster, entomologist.

SOFT COAL OPERATORS TO FIX WAGE PACT

Gather in Chicago to Arrive At Contract With Miners

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Union bituminous coal operators of the United States gathered here to decide on some method for negotiating a wage scale with the soft coal miners next January today were into their second session, their last separate meeting before going into joint conference with the miners.

When today's session was called, according to a spokesman for the operators, no plan or method had been agreed upon for presentation in the joint conference opening tomorrow.

On the outcome of the joint conference depends to a great extent the possibility of another nationwide bituminous coal strike beginning in April, 1923, it was said.

The operators and miners have presented divergent views of the method for negotiating the scale. January 3. This resulted in temporary adjournment of the joint conference last November.

The operators have expressed a desire for some form of arbitration. The miners, according to John L. Lewis, their president, will not accept anything that savors of arbitration. Although this is not one of the specified issues in the conference to be held this week it nevertheless has been brought forward and discussed by the operators.

SHIPPERS, NOT THE STATE, MAY BEGIN ACTION

Would Test State Law Passed In 1917 Regarding Car Distribution

It is not likely that the state railroad commission will bring action against the principal railroads of the state, but it is understood by commission members that some shippers will bring an action to test the state law which prescribes the method of distribution of freight cars, Chairman Frank Mithollan of the state railroad commission said today, in commenting upon a dispatch from St. Paul stating that the state would begin suit.

There has been for sometime negotiations carried on between the state commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission, in which the state officials sought to have the interstate body delegate to it power to govern the distribution of freight cars, especially grain cars, to elevators. The interstate body has thus far not shown any inclination to delegate the power it believes it holds.

A state law of 1917 gives the railroad commission authority in the distribution of cars.

"We are still receiving scores of complaints asking why the state law is not enforced and we will be glad to see it tested and the matter determined," Mr. Mithollan said.

Several elevators have complained that cars have been distributed by railroads on numerical equality and not upon the capacity or business done the previous year by the elevators which, they say, is a discrimination against some of the farmers' elevators of larger capacity and business than their rivals.

Armament In Central America Before Conference

Washington, Dec. 5.—Delegates to the Central American conference planned to get down to business today meeting in committee session to lay out the work proposed in the American invitation. It was assumed that suitable sub-committees would be created to deal with each of the three specific points including limitation of armament set out in that document.

There was a strong probability, however, that some part of today's committee meeting would be devoted to the question of whether the union of central America proposal, urged particularly at the opening session yesterday by Dr. Ucles, chief of the Honduran group, should be taken up as an additional conference subject.

ALL WRONG

The Mistake is Made by Many Bismarck Citizens. Look for the cause of backache. To be cured you must know the cause.

If it's weak kidneys you must set the kidneys working right. A Bismarck resident tells you how. Mrs. Jack Kenyon, 417 Mandan Ave., says: "Several years ago, I gave a public recommendation for Doan's Kidney Pills after the benefit one of my family had received. Since then I have had occasion to use them myself for an attack of kidney trouble. I had puffy sacs underneath my eyes and pains in my back. It was hard for me to do my housework at times. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I am glad to again recommend Doan's, knowing them to be a remedy of wonderful merit. The cure they made for me has lasted several years."

"THE EMPEROR JONES" HERE TONIGHT

Adolph Klauber will present Eugene O'Neill's play, "The Emperor Jones," with Charles S. Gilpin in the title role at the Auditorium tonight.

We have heard a great deal about "The Emperor Jones," since its production and entire season's run at the Princess Theatre, New York, and we have heard much of Mr. Gilpin's extraordinary acting. Leading magazines and metropolitan newspapers have heralded the triumph of play and star throughout the continent. Something may always be expected of O'Neill. He never runs in a beaten path, his plays are all unusual and he is without doubt the most daring and foremost playwright of the present era. Gilpin became a star through his work in this play and was elected fourth highest on the list of the ten greatest contributors to Dramatic Art of last season by the Drama League of New York.

On the face of the indicated opposition of Costa Rica and the similar attitude understood to be held by Guatemala, it appeared doubtful that the proposed federation would be placed on the agenda.

The conference is following generally in accordance the lines of the Washington conference on limitation of naval armament. Under that precedent it is to be expected there will be simultaneous consideration of the three accepted points of discussion, negotiation of treaties to strengthen the old 1907 agreements, limitation of armament, and laying plans for tribunals of inquiry to adjust peacefully central American disputes.

BIRKHEAD CASE TO GO TO TRIAL

Oxford, Miss., Dec. 5.—Judge E. R. Holmes overruled the demurrer of Governor Lee M. Russell asking that the petition of Miss Frances Birkhead be dismissed on the basis of no grounds for action, when court convened this morning.

Judge Holmes, after announcing that the demurrer of Governor Russell had been over-ruled, ordered that the case go to trial on its merits tomorrow morning.

Miss Birkhead is asking $100,000 damages on charges of abduction and breach of promise.

FARGO PUSHES CLAIMS TO EQUAL RATE

Freight Rate Case Before Commission Gets Under Way

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 5.—Fargo is nearer the point of championship than St. Paul on freight originating in Chicago and destined for use in points west of here and therefore, as a matter of economy the railroad rate from Chicago to Fargo should diminish with distance. Karl Knox Gartner, special railroad attorney of Washington told Johnston Campbell Interstate Commerce Commissioner here today. Mr. Gartner is counsel for the Fargo Commercial Club in the hearing instituted by that body to secure equalized freight rates into Fargo.

N. L. Williams, traffic commissioner of the club completed direct testimony this morning. Fargo's case contending for the same through and proportional rates enjoyed by Minnesota cities is before the hearing and H. A. Scandrett, assistant general solicitor for the Northern Pacific Railroad as chief defense counsel began cross examination of Mr. Williams.

Beginning direct testimony Mr. Williams declared California and Montana rates to be discriminatory to Fargo. In his testimony N. E. Williams has stated that in order to take advantage of Minnesota rates Fargo shippers must drag their goods across the Red River to Moorhead, Minn., and load it on a car which is then taken back across the river to Fargo where the train is made up before it again crosses the river and travels east.

MURDER OF AUTO AGENT IS SOLVED

Chicago Bandits Confess That They Held Lanus up and Killed Him

Chicago, Dec. 5.—The mystery surrounding the slaying of Joseph Lanus, wealthy automobile dealer, on Nov. 24, was solved today, the police announced, by the confession of Lawrence Hoffmann, one of seven persons under arrest, that the victim was shot and killed in an attempted robbery. Lanus wounded one of the robbers.

Hoffmann, four other men and two women were in custody in connection with several further robberies and the police admitted they were without a single clue of value in connection with the Lanus slaying until, they say, Julia Hartnett, one of the women held, made a statement involving Hoffmann and other members of her band.

After long questioning, Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes said, Hoffmann finally admitted that Lanus has been shot in an attempt to rob him. The robbers fled, however, without any loot.

According to the police, Hoffmann, William Cramer who was wounded by Lanus and two other members of the band entered Lanus' room and pretended to want to purchase a car. At the rear of the garage Cramer was said to have stepped behind Lanus and placed a revolver against his back and ordered him to put up his hands.

Lanus drew a revolver and fired two shots as he himself was shot twice in the back. The robbers fled leaving him dead on the floor.

WOMAN STRUCK BY TRAIN, KILLED

Holdingford, Minn., Dec. 5.—Mrs. John Kreston, 84, age 75, was instantly killed by a Soo line freight train yesterday afternoon when she walked across the tracks, in the business district here, in the path of the train, which was backing up. She was survived by her husband, a farmer living near here and two sons, Thomas and John, Jr., of this village.

Obedience Is Sermon Subject

By J. W. Duran.
The singing "I walk with a king" was up to the high standard of Rev. Renshaw's singing and the congregational singing is still improving. Dr. Renshaw's sermon was on obedience manfully. But the preacher said that there were many good books to read but that there was but one book. That if you wanted one of the greatest stories ever written to read the description of the children of Israel in Egypt; their deliverance, their passage through the Red sea, their wanderings in the wilderness, the leaving of their dead bodies unburied in the sands of the desert, the crossing of the Jordan and their settlement in the land of Canaan.

WILL CANVASS STATE VOTE

Members of the State Canvassing board met in the office of the Secretary of State today and commenced the canvass of the vote of November 7th last with the official record of that vote present from every county in the state except Burke.

Acting upon an oral opinion from Attorney General Sveinbjorn Johnson that the court order in Burke county did not prevent the canvassing of the vote in Burke county for any office except that of County Commissioner, the secretary of state yesterday asked the Burke county officials to meet and canvass the state vote at once.

The Story of Christ in One Great Painting is portrayed on the cover of December Ladies Home Journal. The Home Journal contains three other full color pictures, ready for framing, an entertaining poem by James W. Foley, fiction by Corra Harris, A. S. M. Hutchinson, Zane Grey, Eleanor Hallowell Abbott, Frances Noyes Hart and Chaf Baker, articles by Booth Tarkington, Grace Richmond, Alice Ornes Winter, Charles A. Selden and others; Fashions, scores of handmade gifts and new Christmas recipes.

Officers and members of St. Elmo Lodge No. 4, K. of P. You are all requested to be present at the meeting Wed. Dec 6th. We have before us, besides election of officers and taking the vote concerning the Pythian Home, the important business of adopting new by-laws for the lodge. Kindly note the importance of this meeting and make arrangements to attend.

DIRECTORS NOMINATED

Ballots in the nominating election of the Association of Commerce were counted this afternoon by the elections committee. The 20 receiving the highest vote were included in the list from which 10 will be elected to serve as directors of the club. Those nominated are: Miss Henrietta Beach, J. L. Bell, A. M. Christianson, F. L. Conklin, S. W. Corwin, Edward B. Cox, H. J. Duemeland, T. B. Fields, Burt Finney, John French, J. A. Graham, B. P. Logan, E. W. Lumby, Geo. D. Mann, Phil Meyer, H. T. Murphy, N. O. Ramstad, G. H. Russ, Jr., W. H. Webb, C. L. Young.

"THE MASQUERADER" BOOK PLAY SCREEN PRODUCTION

Like most successful plays, "The Masquerader" was written and rewritten for its stage presentation. Consequently there has long been some uncertainty as to just why wrote the novel, the play and now the scenario for the film version starring Guy Bates Post, which will be the feature attraction at the Eltinge Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. The original novel was from the prolific pen of Katherine Cecil Thurston, one of England's best known writers; the play was by John Hunter Booth with adaptations by Richard Walton Tully.

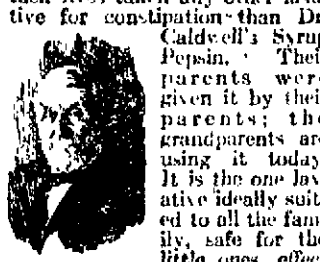

MORE ATTORNEYS HIRE D. B. C. GIRLS

Two more young ladies from Dakota Business College, Fargo, N. D., were recently employed by law firms. They are Misses Kaubarsch and Peterson, the former going to Pierce, Tenneson & Cuper, the latter to C. D. Craven of Carrington. D. B. C. training its pupils for exacting legal work. Leading courts employ D. B. C. stenographers at good salaries.

Third Generation is Using Syrup Pepsin

No other laxative can replace Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the confidence of those who use it.

THERE are thousands of healthy, robust young men and women who have never in all their lives taken any other laxative for constipation than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Their parents were given it by their parents; the grandparents are using it today. It is the only laxative ideally suited to all the family, safe for the little ones, effective in grownups, so compounded that elderly people, who are constantly forced to take a laxative because the intestinal muscles are weakening, find increased dosage unnecessary. This wonderful constipation remedy has been used continuously for 30 years, and over 10 million bottles are now sold annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world! The cost averages but a cent a dose. Every druggist sells it, and under a guarantee to do as outlined or your money will be refunded.

Millions of carefully conducted homes are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. The formula is on the package. As the popularity of this natural vegetable laxative increases, the public discards the harsher physics like calomel, psyllar in candy form, salt waters and powders. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin empties the bowels more cleanly and without any danger.

TAKE DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN

The family laxative

who produced it on the stage as well as for the films; the screen version, which has been distributed through First National, was prepared by Tully himself. The motion picture followed the play more closely than the novel, although it possesses numerous instances that were impossible in the stage presentation.

BISMARCK MAY GET CONVENTION

Minot, N. D., Dec. 5.—The day is not far away when the public and honest baker will be protected equally with legislation that will prohibit unscrupulous manufacture and sale of the all-important commodity, bread. C. A. Williams of Fargo, secretary-treasurer of the N. D. Association of Baking Industries, told members of that organization, in semi-annual meeting here today, the convention opened this forenoon. Bismarck or Mandan is slated for the 1923 meeting.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

COOPERATION IS HELPFUL

The invitation issued by Superintendent Saxvik to parents to visit the schools during American Education Week could be accepted with profit. No one realizes more fully than the school authorities the value of whole-hearted cooperation of parents in educational work. The school and the home are linked together. Teachers know that they can do more effective work if the parents are interested and will help.

Bismarck's school system is one in which all citizens should take pride. It has expanded rapidly, and so effectively that the number of students from outside the city is increasing rapidly in the high school.

A study of the schools by parents will bring before them the many problems which teachers are required to face, and be a potent argument for pay equivalent to the training needed and service given.

CONSUMERS GET NO HELP

Several cities of the state are coming to the belief that the railroad commission law is supposed to protect not merely the utilities but the consumers as well.

The City of Jamestown is a party to a case involving electric and steam rates of that city, and the figures produced, on their face, indicated the consumers are likely to benefit in the decision.

The City of Minot appropriated $750 to pay an accounting firm to help in the electric and steam utility case of that city. Consumers of Bismarck also have made a start which lends hope for success here, but here the consumers do not have the aid of the city commission.

LET'S GET IN THE HARNESS

It is perhaps unnecessary to add that all those who so eagerly joined in the new Association of Commerce work should immediately get into the harness and function for the good of the club and the city. It is easy, however, to find some matter of passing moment to deter one from regular attendance at meetings. It is hoped that every member will find it possible to attend the general and group meetings Wednesday night, and cooperate in outlining a program of work for the club to follow.

MOVIE

A new English movie, "The Battle of the Ants," shows two rival ant colonies in a war that lasted two weeks. The ants are shown building bridges, attacking in mass formation, looting the enemies' homes, carrying away their building materials.

Audiences seem most interested in the ant sentries who guard the bridges and challenge all who pass.

Movies of this sort, picturing thrilling adventures in nature, will become common if audiences ever weary of seeing countless new versions of Cinderella, the favorite movie and fiction plot.

EXCEPTIONAL

Only about 28,000 American tourists crossed the Atlantic this summer, steamship officials estimate. Many of them behaved bestially at European bars. And from the 28,000, a considerable section of Europe will form its opinions of the average American.

Opinions usually are based on minorities. You read of a few scandals and decide the nation's going to pot, forgetting the millions of respectable people who never get publicity for the simple reason that they are respectable and law-abiding.

IVAN

Henry Ford predicts that the 300,000,000 people of Russia eventually will be manufacturing and buying more autos than Americans.

Russia's comeback may be a lot nearer than most of us imagine. Ford says that "within the not distant future" he expects to have plants in Russia producing autos from Russian raw materials exclusively.

When pessimistic about the final outcome in Russia, remember that dormant power cannot be locked up forever. Russia may be our best export customer by 1930.

HOUSEWORK

The best thinking seems to be coming from small towns, as usual. The Brookville Record furnishes this: "It is hard to understand a sex that is too proud to do housework at $15 a week, but will marry and do it for nothing."

The housewife, of course, works for love, not money. Still, this isn't a satisfactory explanation. As a mystery, love is even more baffling than life. Life doesn't survive. Love does.

BOOM

This reflects prosperity, now and to come: The railroads loaded more than a million cars of freight in the week ended Oct. 21, latest reported. To beat that, you have to go back two years, and even then traffic wasn't much heavier.

Don't worry about a stock market slump, as long as the railroads have more business than they can handle. When freight moves heavily, people are buying and business is betting on prosperity.

RED

The former chief of Scotland Yard, Sir Basil Thomson, says that the Bolsheviks are losing the foothold they gained in England. Thirteen Soviets were formed over there, in the early part of 1919.

The Soviets are breaking up as business improves. Prosperity and discontent do not travel together. With a full stomach, no one can be a radical—unless he has liver trouble.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of the Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

CHECKS HOUSE BUILDING

Every now and then we hear complaints of the scarcity of houses for rent, here as well as in other towns. Houses are hard to secure for those who wish to remove to town. These people do not stop to consider that present tax regulations for town property are largely responsible for this condition. Where a house owner lives in his house he gets clear of taxation on the building for a nominal sum but if he rents his property a large tax is levied, because it is classed as income property.

Does anyone expect people to invest money in houses for rent under these conditions? As it often happens that rents are paid by some tenants for a long period, there is a heavy loss to revenue. Then the upkeep and insurance are added to the tax so that little is left for the owner. We know of one small cottage which rents for less than $10 a month, with the taxes at $65 for last year; take out the insurance and repairs and you see where the owner gets off. It is a poor law, calculated to deter building in towns for other than the absolute needs of personal use by lot owners. The idea of the League probably was to speak it to the town resident and property holder on the theory that his income should be reduced by taxation. Of course this is in line with the out cry against profits on money investment, a narrow and obstructive policy. We would like to see the man, no matter what his political belief, who is looking around for a chance to invest his money in the lowest rate of interest paying business he can find. It is to be hoped the legislature will change the statute in this respect.—Steele Ozono.

THIS IS A GREAT COUNTRY

Where has the North Dakota of the old days gone? Here it is Thanksgiving Day and only three weeks to Christmas and a fellow can't even go skating. No ice, no snow, no sleighing, skiing, "flying things." This will soon be a worse state than California in which to live; full of anemics, rich old crabs, retired aristocrats, tired plutocrats, squeaky old maids and batty old bachelors and widowers.

When the winters are as effeminate and soft and easy as they have been these last few years, it is almost time for a real North Dakotan to move to Florida or California or some other more appropriate climate. Although the writer was born in this state, we're almost ashamed of it. The climate is as far behind the times as a telephone book. When we were a kid, all the winter underwear was fur-lined and we used to walk up one side of the house and slide down the other. When it was real cold, people had to speak with their hands because the words just froze up solid the minute they left the lips, fell to the ground and were lost in the snow.

Now a fellow, in order to keep from sweating to death, has to wear sleeveless underwear and cotton socks all winter and can't turn a hand without using fans.

Where are the good old North Dakota winters where were made for regular men and women, only?—Kildeer Herald.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

North Dakota has been investigated recently by actual tillers of the soil from Iowa, and the results are that a number of renters of that state are going to move to this state. Sometimes it takes an outsider or a resident from other states to appreciate the many advantages in North Dakota. Any day the decision made by the farmers of Iowa is a boost for North Dakota.—Carson Press.

INSTITUTES IN COUNTIES HAVE BEGUN

County Institute work began December 4th in the "Slope" country with a schedule of two weeks meetings at least outlined before the members of the instructing corps recess for the Christmas holidays. The corps, which is the same as one of the organizations of last year is composed of D. E. Willard, Mrs. G. W. Randlett and Mr. W. F. Reynolds.

The central matter of instruction this year will be farm accounts and farm finance, this being of course based on some of the elements of diversified farming presented through the same communities last year. The slogan of the county institutes this year is, according to men at the head of the movement:

"Balanced Corps, Balanced Livestock, Balanced Nations, with quality marketing will make a successful farmer."

The schedule for the early meetings of the organization follows:

December 6—Bentley.
December 7—Mott.
December 8—Elgin.
December 9—Carson.
December 11—Shields.
December 12—Salford.
December 14—Solon.
December 16—Kildeer.
December 18—Werner.
December 19—Halliday.

A THOUGHT

Pe thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.—Revelation 2:10.

Men are enlisted for the labor that kills; let them be enlisted for the labor that feeds; and let the captains of the latter be held as much gentlemen as the captains of the former.—John Ruskin.

Triumphs of M. Jonquille

THE FORTUNE TELLER

It was an ancient diary in a faded leather cover. The writing was fine and delicate and the ink yellow with age. Monsieur Jonquille turned the pages slowly and with care, for the paper was fragile. We had dined early and come in later to his house on the Faubourg St. Germain in Paris.

He wished to show me this old diary that had come down to him from a branch of his mother's family in Virginia—a branch that had gone out with a King's Grant when Virginia was a crown colony. The collateral ancestor Pendleton had been a Justice of the Peace in Virginia, and a spinster daughter had written down some of the strange cases with which her father had been concerned. Monsieur Jonquille believed that these cases in their graphic details and their inspirational deductive handling equaled any of modern times. The great library overlooking the Faubourg St. Germain was certainly off from Paris. Monsieur Jonquille read by the fire, and I listened, returned as by some recession of time to the Virginia of a vanished decade. The narrative of the diary follows:

It was a big sunny room. The windows looked out on a formal garden, great beech trees and the bow of the river. Within it was a sort of library. There were bookshelves built into the wall, to the height of a man's head, and at intervals between them, rising from the floor to the cornice of the shelves, were rows of mahogany drawers with glass knobs. There was also a flat writing table.

It was the room of a traveler, a man of letters, a dreamer. On the table was an ink-pot of carved ivory, a penknife of ivory with gold handles, set in three bronze storks, with their back together, held an exquisite Japanese crystal.

The room was in disorder—the drawers pulled out and the contents ransacked. My father stood leaning against the easement of the window, looking out. The lawyer, Mr. Lewis, sat in a chair beside the table, his eyes on the violated room.

"Pendleton," he said, "I don't like this Englishman Gosford."

The words seemed to arouse my father out of the depths of some reflection, and he turned to the lawyer Mr. Lewis.

"Gosford?" he echoed.

"He is behind this business, Pendleton," the lawyer, Mr. Lewis, went on. "Mark my word! He comes here when Marshall is dying; he forces his way to the man's bed; he puts the servants out; he locks the door. Now, what business had this Englishman with Marshall on his deathbed? What business of a secrecy so close that Marshall's son is barred out by a locked door?"

He paused and twisted the seal ring on his finger.

"When you and I came to visit the sick man, Gosford was always here, as though he kept a watch upon us, and when we left, he went always to this room to write his letters, as he said."

"And more than this, Pendleton," Marshall was hardly in his grave before Gosford writes me to inquire by what legal process the dead man's papers may be examined for a will. And it is Gosford who sends a negro riding, as if the devil were on the crupper, to summon me in the name of the Commonwealth of Virginia, to appear and examine into the circumstances of this burglary."

"I mistrust the man," he used to hang about Marshall in his life, and he took possession and leadership in his affairs, and sets the man's son aside. In what right, Pendleton?

RESPECT THE FLAG

When you see the Stars and Stripes displayed, stand up and take off your hat. Somebody may titter. It is in the blood of some to deride all expression of noble sentiment. You may blaspheme in the street and stagger drunken in public places, and the bystanders will not pay much attention to you, but if you should get down on your knees and pray to Almighty God, or if you should stand bareheaded while a company of old soldiers marches by with flags to the breeze, most people will think you are showing off.

But don't you mind! When Old Glory comes along, salute, and let them think what they please! When the band plays The Star Spangled Banner in a restaurant or hotel dining room, get up, even if you rise alone; stand there, and don't be ashamed of it, either.

Don't be ashamed when your throat chokes and the tears come when you see the flag flying from the masts of our ships on the great seas or floating from every flagstaff of the Republic. You will never have a worthier emotion. For of all the signs and symbols since the world begun there is none so full of meaning as the flag of this country.

Other flags mean a glorious past; this flag means a glorious future. It is not so much the flag of our fathers as it is the flag of our children, and of countless children yet unborn. It is the flag of tomorrow, the sign of the "good time coming." It is not the flag of your king; it is the flag of yourself and your neighbors.

Your flag stands for humanity, for an equal opportunity to all the sons of men. Of course, we have not yet arrived at that goal; injustice still dwells among us; senseless and cruel customs of the past still cling to us, but the flag leads the way to righting the wrongs of men.

Our flag is the world's symbol of liberty. That piece of red, white, and blue bunting means five thousand years of struggle upwards. It is the full-grown flower of generations fighting for liberty. It is the century plant of human hope in bloom.—Alvin M. Owsley, of Texas, Commander American Legion, Indianapolis, Indiana.

"What court has appointed a guardian for young Marshall?"

"A court," replied my father "that does not sit under the authority of Virginia. The helpless, Lewis in their youth and inexperience, are not wholly given over to the spoils."

The boy they talked about was very young—under twenty, one would say. He was blue-eyed and fair-haired, with thin, delicate features, which showed good blood long inbred to the loss of vigor. He had the fine, open, generous face of one who takes the world as in a fairy story. But now there was care and anxiety in it, and a furtive shadow, as though the lad's dream of life had got some rude awakening.

At this moment the door behind my father and Lewis was thrown violently open, and a man entered. He was a person with the manner of a barrister, precise and dapper; he had a long, pink face, pale eyes, and a close-cropped beard that brought out the hard lines of his mouth. He hustled to the table, put down a sort of portfolio that held an inkpot, a writing-pad and pens, and drew up a chair like one about to take the minutes of a meeting. And all the while he apologized for his delay. He had important letters to get off in the post, and to make sure, had carried them to the tavern himself.

"And now, sir, let us get about this business," he finished, like one who asks his assistants to a labor. My father turned about and looked at the man.

"Is your name Gosford?" he said in his cold, level voice.

"It is, sir," replied the Englishman, "Anthony Gosford!"

"Well, Mr. Anthony Gosford," replied my father, "kindly close that door that you have opened."

Lewis plucked out his snuffbox and trumpeted in his many-colored handkerchief to hide his laughter.

The Englishman, thrown off his patronizing manner, hesitated, closed the door as he was hidden—and could not regain his fine air.

"Now, Mr. Gosford," my father went on, "why was this room violated as we see it?"

"It was searched for Peyton Marshall's will, sir," replied the man.

"How did you know that Marshall had a will?" said my father.

"I saw him write it," returned the Englishman, "here in this very room, on the eighteenth day of October, 1854."

"That was two years ago," said my father. "Was the will here at Marshall's death?"

"It was. He told me on his deathbed."

"And it is gone now?"

"It is," replied the Englishman.

"And now, Mr. Gosford," said my father, "how do you know this will is gone unless you also know precisely where it was?"

"I do know precisely where it was, sir," returned the man. "It was in a row of drawers on the right of the window where you stand—the second drawer from the top. Mr. Marshall put it there when he wrote it and he told me on his deathbed that it remained there. You can see, sir, that the drawer has been rifled."

My father looked casually at the row of mahogany drawers rising along the end of the bookcase. The second one and the one above were open; the others below were closed.

"Mr. Gosford," he said, "you would have some interest in this will, to know about it so precisely."

"And so I have," replied the man. "It left me a sum of money."

"A large sum?"

"A very large sum, sir."

"Mr. Anthony Gosford," said my father, "for what purpose did Peyton Marshall bequeath you a large sum of money? You are no kinsman, are you?"

The Englishman sat down and put his fingers together with a judicial air.

"Sir," he began, "I am not advised that the purpose of a bequest is relevant, when the bequest is direct and unencumbered by the testator with any indicative words of trust or uses. This will bequeathes me a sum of money. I am not required by any provision of the law to show the reasons moving the testator. Doubtless, Mr. Peyton Marshall had reasons which he deemed excellent for those cause, but they are air, enshrouded in mystery."

My father looked steadily at this man, but he did not seem to consider his explanation, nor to go any further on that line.

"Is there another who would know about this will?" he said.

"This effeminate son would know."

replied Gosford, a sneer in the epithet, "but no other. Marshall wrote the testament in his own hand, without witnesses, as he had the legal right to do under the laws of Virginia. The lawyer," he added, "Mr. Lewis, will confirm me in the legality of that."

Another installment of "The Fortune Teller" will appear in our next issue.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The next person that the Green Wizard helped was one of the twins.

Indeed, it was none other than Mr. Scribble Scratch, the thin schoolmaster of Meadow Grove School.

One day he met Nancy and Nick walking in Whispering Forest. He was on his way home to his little house by the bitter-sweet path and he looked tired and discouraged.

When he saw the Twins, his face brightened.

"How do you do, my dears! he said pleasantly. 'I'm glad to see you.'"

"We're pretty well, thank you," answered them. "And we're glad to see you, too. We hope you are well."

The schoolmaster sighed. "Just pretty!" he said. "I wish I had you back to help me."

"We're helping the Green Wizard," explained Nancy. "But perhaps you can come when—"

"The very thing!" said Mr. Scribble Scratch suddenly. "You can help me where you are. Will you ask the Wizard if he has such a thing as a magical wisdom cap? If I just had a wisdom cap, I'd be all right."

"Why, I thought you knew everything," cried Nancy astonished.

"I don't need a magical wisdom cap, my dear. It's my stupid pupils. If I had a wisdom cap, I'd give 'em each a turn wearing it. And then think how smart they'd be!"

"Why, that's a fine idea," said Nick admiringly. "We'll ask Mr. Green Wizard at once."

The Wizard did produce a magical wisdom cap and the Twins took it to Scribble Scratch who fairly cried for joy.

A week later the Twins, passing, saw a sign up which said, "School Closed!" There sat Mr. Scribble Scratch at his desk looking as forlorn as a rainy day.

"What can be wrong?" asked Nancy kindly.

"They all got so smart they knew everything," said the schoolmaster ruefully. "and now they won't come and I'm out of a job."

"Oh, don't worry," Nick assured him. "Give us the wisdom-cap and we'll bring you a dunce-cap instead."

MONTH'S REPORTS ARE RECEIVED BY COMMISSION

The city commission last night received the report of the city auditor, showing receipts of $192,10. The city bacteriologist reported that tests during the month showed the water within requirements, samples of milk and cream tested were within requirements and several restaurants and meat markets investigated were found in sanitary condition.

Correspondence between the city auditor and city engineer regarding the water company's method of protecting hydrants with manure during the winter was read. The water company claimed, it was stated, that lowering of street grades by the city was necessary this step. The city engineer asserted this was not so, and that the company had been reimbursed for lowering of grades.

Social and Personal

Set Thursday for Seal Sale Drive

Thursday, December 7th, has been set as the day for the Christmas Seal sale in Bismarck. It was announced today by Mrs. J. C. Martenson, city chairman. Fifty percent of the proceeds raised will go toward the milk fund for the city schools and the percentage for the school children in the resident district will be used for welfare work in the schools. The committee have been appointed and are busy working for a big sale on Thursday. All business houses and offices are urged to stamp all their letters and packages from now until Christmas with Tuberculosis Christmas Seals and help not only the schools in Bismarck but also the tuberculosis work in the state.

MAYOR OF CENTRALIA HERE

George L. Barner, mayor of Centralia, Wash., arrived in Bismarck last night to take care of funeral arrangements for his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Scovill of McKenzies, who passed away here recently. George is a former Bismarck boy, having attended the public schools here in 1903. Last year he was elected mayor of Centralia, a city of 12,000 in the American Legion and state. Shortly before his election Centralia was an important center in some L. W. W. disturbances.

Mayor Barner declares that since he saw Bismarck it had greatly improved and for a city of its size had much finer business buildings and dwellings than most cities of its size.

DISSENTION IN MAJOR LEAGUE BALL RANKS

Date Set by Ben Johnson
Landis Conflict
Minors Meet

(By the Associated Press)
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 5.—The first big deal of the winter league controversy was made today when the American League, a hitting team, was sold to the Philadelphia Athletics for $75,000.

(By the Associated Press)
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 5.—The American League, a hitting team, was sold to the Philadelphia Athletics for $75,000.

Commissioner Landis declared that insofar as he was concerned the joint meeting would be held as scheduled, but he was not prepared to say whether the American League club owners would participate. Baseball leaders pointed out that it would be impossible for the American League to attend on the date set because of their Chicago meeting. President Johnson in announcing the meeting for Chicago said he could see no reason for a joint meeting of the major leagues in New York as no subjects of importance were facing the club owners of the two leagues.

"I can say this much," Commissioner Landis said today. "I issued a call two weeks ago for the joint meeting. President Johnson announced the meeting of the American League for Chicago only last week. Insofar as I am concerned the joint meeting will be held as scheduled."

The white haired commissioner was a picturesque figure at the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues convention today.

The first session of the minor leagues was set for this afternoon when President H. M. Sexton will begin the organization work and appoint committees to consider important problems. The first important session will be held tomorrow afternoon. The question of the draft probably will be brought up and it is reported that the Texas League and the Southern Association, which now recognizes the right of the majors to select players annually, would seek to join the American Association, International Pacific Coast, Western and Three Eye League—the five organizations that declined to subscribe to the draft.

The American Association club owners who yesterday re-elected President Thomas J. Hickey for a five year term recovered today to consider the adoption of a schedule. John W. Norton, President of the St. Paul club, was re-elected vice-president for the year.

President Hickey said a schedule of 148 games probably would be adopted.

ATHLETIC CLUB FLOURISHING

Commodore Barry Club Formed at St. Mary's Gymnasium

The Commodore Barry Athletic club, formed at St. Mary's gymnasium, is flourishing now with over 70 members. Under the direction of P. C. Launinger callisthenics are given Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and in addition basketball, handball, boxing, wrestling and other gymnasium sports are available for the club members.

It is probable that the club will put a basketball team in the field soon. The club is non-sectarian and has no age limit.

Shower baths are available and lockers now are practically completed for use of the members.

MEET GRAY, PRINCETON'S BIG HERO

No Player On Tiger Varsity Has Done More For Old Nassau

HOWARD K. GRAY

By Billy Evans
Princeton, N. J., Dec. 5.—Who is the most popular student at Princeton?

I put that question to a bunch of undergraduates with whom I was discussing the victory over Harvard and Yale.

The celebration was being held in the modern way. There was no cheering for Mr. Volstead.

The gang looked at me in a rather puzzled manner. I guess they thought I was trying to josh them. Seeing I was in earnest, one of them replied: "Well, gang, let's tell him."

Then getting together for close harmony they gave the old Tiger yell and ended up with Gray, Gray, Gray.

All of which paves the way for the big punch of the story.

The most popular student at Princeton University is Howard K. Gray of Omaha, Neb.

Star in All Branches

Another reason for this story is that Gray is the star end of the varsity football team. His excellent all-round work on the gridiron makes him an All-America possibility.

Against Chicago is Gray who recovered a fumble and ran 40 yards for a touchdown. That feat came at a time when Princeton was trailing, 18 to 7. It put new spirit into the Tigers and they eventually won the game, 21 to 18.

Against Harvard it was Gray's sensational run on a triple pass that carried the ball to Harvard's two-yard line and placed Princeton in a position to score the only touchdown of the game.

Gray was president of his freshman class, also the sophomore. He declined the honor as a junior. This year he was the unanimous choice of the senior class for its president.

In addition, Gray is also president of four other Princeton organizations—the Varsity Club, the Ivy Club, the Student Council and the Philadelphia Society.

By NEA Service
Omaha, Neb., Dec. 5.—Few more newspaper people ever pass the portals of the private office of Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, but the mention of his son Howard, Princeton football star, proved an "open sesame."

"How did Howard spend his time before he went to Princeton?" Gray chuckled reminiscently.

"Just as every other small boy does," I supposed, he answered. "He attended public schools in St. Paul, Minn., and Portland, Ore., until he was 13, when we sent him to the Gilman Country school at Balti, more."

"He didn't take much interest in out-of-door sports until he went to Gilman, where athletics are stressed. He always did good school work, but never superlative school work."

Strong for Athletics

"But at Gilman he had excellent records in baseball, football and track. He received a prize there for contributing the most to the school athletics at the same time keeping up his scholastic standing."

"Of course, because of the nature of my business, he has traveled a great deal over the United States and Canada. He has always spent his summer vacations at home, and we have lived in Portland, St. Louis, St. Paul, Baltimore and Omaha."

"I don't think I can tell you any more of his early career. I'm afraid it would embarrass him to death if I tried to picture him to you, as a small boy. But say, you'd never expect this to become a football star, now would you?"

Gray Shines Before Parents

The railroad president walked over to his desk and picked up a baby picture—a pretty, big-eyed baby in a ruffled white dress.

"Looks like a pretty little girl doesn't it?" he chuckled. "That's Howard as a baby." The he turned to a small drawer filled with newspaper clippings, and pulled out the newspaper one which, despite its recent date, had been much figured.

In the center was a full-length sporting photo of a stalwart young giant, about which the rest of the team were grouped. Beneath the central figure in the group was the name, "Howard K. Gray."

HORNSBY MAY PLAY SHORT IF LAVAN RETIRES

JOHNNY LAVAN

By NEA Service
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 5.—The news cabled from Tokyo recently that Johnny Lavan had been taken ill on the oriental tour with the major league barn stormers indicates that the veteran starstopper may not return to the game in 1923.

Lavan was broken in health throughout the 1922 season due to a serious attack of influenza contracted with the St. Louis Cardinals at their training camp at Orange, Tex., during the spring.

Although advised by doctors to rest for the season Lavan tackled the job of shortstopping ever now and then. His strength, however, melted away after playing for a week or so and he always was forced to retire to regain his strength.

Lavan has been in the big leagues since 1913, when he was picked by Bill Dickey, chief scout of the St. Louis Browns from the University of Michigan. Lavan played under Dickey when the latter was coach of the Wolverines baseball squad.

If Lavan is unable to play ball any more Dickey will face a serious problem with his infield. George Toporoff, who wears spectacles and who served as Lavan's substitute, proved that he did not measure up to the major league grade last summer.

One shift mentioned by Dickey is the return of Rogers Hornsby as shortstop. Hornsby was a shortstopper in his minor league days and played the position until Lavan joined the Cardinals in 1919, when he moved over to second base.

"LIE," SHOUTS DES CAMPS, OF SIKI'S CHARGE

Manager of Carpentier Denies Match was a Frame-up for Frenchman

(By the Associated Press)
Paris, Dec. 5.—"It is an infamous lie," Francois Des Camps, manager of Georges Carpentier, said today when shown the declaration by Battling Siki that his championship match with Carpentier was to have been a frame up.

"I was sure Carpentier would knock this negro out in the first round," Des Camps continued. "Do you suppose I would let this slummy fighter stay four rounds with my champion?"

"Deputy Diagne is making electoral propaganda of this stuff. It will go big at the next election with his Senegalese electors, but it may not go so big in the courts" when the deputy is asked to prove his charges.

"I defy Diagne to show the slightest proof on which to charge me with this alleged frame up. I have noticed he was very careful not to mention my name in that connection."

"I believe Deputy Diagne's good faith has been cheated by this negro. Outside of electoral considerations, Diagne, perhaps, is acting in good faith; but he is making a big mistake in mixing sports with politics. Sports are bad enough without compared with some of our politics."

"Georges doesn't want any title which he does not earn in the ring, thus we intend leaving for America next March or April to challenge Harry Greb, who is much more qualified than Siki to wear the title of champion."

Paris, Dec. 5.—The declaration that Battling Siki is a much greater liar than he ever was a fighter and that no one can take away his title as champion liar of the world was the only comment which M. Heliors, manager of the Senegalese member of newspaper correspondents this morning when confronted with Siki's "confession" concerning the Carpentier bout as published in some of the morning papers.

M. Heliors added that he would defend himself to the limit and defend M. Diagne, the Senegalese shortstop, to produce any proof of the charges.

alleged frame up beyond the scope of word of Siki.

Neither Des Camps nor Carpentier would make any comment concerning the charges that the bout was framed. Des Camps said: "My name is not mentioned in this affair but I may give a statement to the press later."

The publication of Siki's charges has created a sensation in France.

Billy Evans' Weekly Boxing Letter

In any sport the athlete with the wallop gets the spotlight.

The tall player who can hit home runs, the boxer who can knock his opponent cold, the golfer who can drive ten miles gets the hero worship.

Babe Ruth almost overnight became the baseball idol of the country, simply because he could hit the ball farther than any one else playing the game.

No diamond hero ever reached greater heights than Ruth. Incidentally, unless Bambino starts hitting home runs again next season, like Humpty Dumpty he is due for an awful fall. Pandemonium is kicking.

In the golfing world Jesse Guilford is known as the "Big Sledge Gun," because of the distance he gets to his drives. When Guilford plays he always has a big gallery in his wake. The crowd follows him because of his reputation of hitting "on hard."

Jack Dempsey is a favorite because he possesses the big wallop. No matter how big or strong they are, Jack's opponents seldom go the distance.

Punch is Last Art
All of which gives rise to the question, is the punch becoming a lost art in boxing?

Of the present-day champions, the Jack Dempsey is about the only one who rocks the boys to sleep. And because of the few heavyweight opponents the public doesn't get very many chances to see Dempsey in action.

The pugilistic game could get no greater boost than the coming of a champion in any class who proved himself to be a real "knockout" There are no Stanley Ketchels or Terry McGovern among the pugilists these days.

Ketchel Had Color
I don't believe there was ever a more colorful fighter than Stanley Ketchel. I saw him in a number of his best fights and never failed to get a thrill. Ketchel was a real fighter, yet the possessor of much cleverness.

The boxing game has too few such champions. In these modern days the idea is to wait through a bout and do as little fighting as possible. In other words, "bank" the public.

Recently I saw in action in Detroit a youngster by the name of Bob Sage, who reminded me in many ways of the late Stanley Ketchel. It wouldn't surprise me if within a year or two this fellow Sage would be a prominent figure in pugilistic circles.

Sage is a student at the University of Detroit. By the way, the University of Detroit is some pump-kin from an athletic standpoint. Recently the football eleven surprised the football experts by its decisive defeat of Washington and Jefferson.

Like Boxing as Sport
Sage is a middleweight built along the lines of Ketchel. Sage is a like-looking chap, and so far has managed to retain his pole position despite a number of hard battles. Like Ketchel, Sage can hit. Like Ketchel, Sage really enjoys the fight game.

In football the best players are the fellows who really enjoy the strenuous pastime. In baseball, the fellow who plays for the love of the game is the player who does big things. The same holds good in boxing.

Are You The Man Who "Never Reads Advertisements?"

Some men, who are neither blind nor illiterate, claim sincerely that they "never read advertisements." Yet, if you could investigate, in each case you would find that the man who "never reads advertisements" used an advertised tooth paste or shaving cream or soap. If he owns an automobile it will be an advertised car. If you ask his opinion of any automobile he will reply in words that might have been lifted bodily from an advertisement of that automobile.

Advertising has formed his opinions to a great degree. He may have received his information through others who obtained their knowledge from advertising. But it is a fact that no man can escape the effect of advertising even if he does say he "never reads advertisements."

Not one of us ever reasoned out entirely from his own mind that the earth is round. If we had not read it or heard it we would never have known it.

In these days of good, truthful, helpful advertising to say, "I never read advertisements" is merely your way of saying, "I don't read all advertisements."

News of the Markets

SMALL RISE SCORED IN WHEAT PRICE

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Dec. 5.—Wheat scored a moderate uptick in price today after a little setback at the start. A decline in Liverpool quotations appeared to be chiefly responsible for the initial weakness here, but reports of further rising in Argentina acted as a more than an offset. Trade, however, lacked volume. The opening which ranged from 1/2¢ lower to a 1/4¢ advance, with May $1.15 1/2 to $1.15 1/4 and July $1.07 1/2 to $1.07 1/4, was followed by a general sag and then by a rise all around to above yesterday's finish.

Corn and oats were governed in the main by the action of wheat. Something of a lull in western demand for corn was reported. After opening a shade to 1/2¢ lower, May 65¢, the corn market showed a little more, and then showed slight gains.

Oats started unchanged to 1/4¢ higher, May 42 1/2 to 42 3/4 and held closed to the initial range.

Provisions were pressed by a fall in hog values.

Stock market weakness turned the wheat market downward today in the last half of the board of trade session. Wheat closed unsettled 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ net lower with May $1.15 1/2 to $1.15 1/4 and July $1.07 1/2 to $1.07 1/4.

Both domestic crop estimates together with talk of farm legislation had some stimulating effect in the lifting of prices, but there was no aggressive buying and wheat values dropped quickly when stock market liquidation led to increased selling pressure on wheat.

Subsequently, the market seemed to be bare of supporting orders and houses with eastern connections were active sellers, especially in operations in December closed 1 1/2¢ to 2 1/4¢ asked and May 1/4¢ off at $2.43 asked.

NEWS OF WALL STREET

(By the Associated Press)
New York, Dec. 5.—Opening prices in today's stock market were dull and irregular, most traders adopting a hesitant attitude in the early dealings. Studebaker showed an extreme gain of 2 1/2 points. Sterling products was pushed up 2 1/2 to a new high for the year and Continental Can equaled its former high on a gain of 2 1/2 points. Cluett's Peabody climbed 5 points. Weakness developed in some parts of the list, however, on the selling of the low priced rails. Foreign exchange was dull and irregular.

Persistent selling of railroad shares, both dividend and non-paying, fell 1 to 2 points, had a depressing effect on the whole market. Some of the industrial leaders such as Baldwin, United States Steel common and Pan American offered good resistance to selling pressure but Studebaker forfeited nearly all of its initial rise.

Having succeeded in checking the rally which started last week, bear operators were active in putting out new short lines of stocks. Peoples Gas was hammered down 4 1/2 and Mullan Oil 3 1/2, while others dropped 1 to 2 1/2.

Call money opened at 5 percent.

Extension of the forenoon decline was quite general. American Hide and Leather preferred losing 4 1/2 points, Great Northern preferred 3 1/2, Chicago and Northwestern 3 1/2 and Union Pacific 3 points, before the announcement of the declaration of a 25 percent stock dividend by Studebaker, and the resumption of dividends on Kennecott Copper at the annual rate of 3 percent served to stem the tide of selling orders for a time. Studebaker which had been quoted under yesterday's final figure immediately mounted to 128 1/2 and Kennecott also scored a rise of a point. Rallying in the balance of the list were not important apart from Kelsey Wheel which rose 4 1/2.

The closing was firm. Virtual cessation of liquidation in the final hour combined with brisk buying of a few special issues, notably Standard Oil of New Jersey, Pittsburgh Coal, Southern Railway preferred, and Kelsey Wheel, turned prices upward again, particularly in the industrial group.

Prices eased into today's relative dull dealings on the stock exchange with the final quotations showing few important changes. Rail shares were heavy most of the day on unfounded rumors of forthcoming cuts in dividends. Industrial shares strengthened on announcement of favorable dividend action by the directors of the Kennecott Copper Company and the Studebaker Corporation.

Sales approximated 700,000 shares.

POTATOES DULL

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Dec. 5.—Potatoes dull; receipts 76 cars; total U. S. shipments 60; Wisconsin sacked round whites No. 1, 75¢ @ 85¢ cwt.; Minnesota sacked and bulk round whites No. 1, 75¢ @ 85¢ cwt.; Minnesota and North Dakota sacked Red River Ohio 80¢ @ 85¢ cwt.; Idaho sacked rural No. 1, $1.00 @ $1.05 cwt.

Red River Valley points carloads f. o. b. usual terms. Moorhead rate sacked cwt. Red River Ohio U. S. No. 1, very few sales 50¢ @ 60¢.

WHEAT WEAKER

(By the Associated Press)
Duluth, Dec. 5.—Lower cables and limited eastern millers or export inquiry led to weakness in the wheat market today. Support was lacking to take care of even the moderate offerings.

The market was still easy at the close. December wheat closed unchanged at $1.14 nominally and May unchanged at $1.14 nominally. December durum closed 1/4¢ off at 90¢ and May 1/4¢ off at 86 1/2¢ asked.

Spot rye closed 1/4¢ up at 69 1/2¢; December 1/4¢ up at 70 1/2¢ bid and May 1/4¢ up at 82 1/2¢ asked. Spot oats closed 1/4¢ off at 38 1/2¢ @ 38 1/4¢ and barley unchanged at from 45¢ to 60¢.

Nearly flaxseed was wanted by crushers to complete cargoes for late loading but the more distant seed was slow with small interest shown of December delivery. The close was nervous, 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ net lower, with May 68 1/2¢ to 68 1/4¢.

FLOUR MARKET

(By the Associated Press)
Minneapolis, Dec. 5.—Flour unchanged to 1/2¢ lower in cake and family patents quoted at $6.65 a barrel in 95 pound cotton sacks. Shipments 62,004 barrels. Bran $22.50 @ $23.00.

CHOICE WHEAT IN DEMAND

(By the Associated Press)
Minneapolis, Dec. 5.—Choice wheat on the Minneapolis market continued in active demand today and ruled firm compared with futures. Local mills were after high gluten wheat and paid good prices to get same. On the average, the market was unchanged and demand was fair to good. For the choice and quiet to fair for the medium.

REVERENCE FOR FLAG IS URGED UPON STUDENTS

G. H. Russ, Speaking at High School, Stresses Spirit It Represents

Reverence for the flag was urged by George H. Russ Jr., speaking as a representative of the American Legion before the high school students today. Under the program for American Education Week today is known as "Patriotism Day."

Mr. Russ explained that the American Legion had been asked by the United States Bureau of Education to lend the machinery of its great organization to the effort of American Education Week, for the reason that it was believed those who gave all for the war could be relied upon to give equally unselfish service in time of peace.

Mr. Russ called attention to the fact that the Legion looks to the rising generation as holding the destiny of the country in its hand, and wanted to see the spirit of America carried on by them. He quoted from the President's address of 1917 and asked the aid of the students in driving out un-American ideas. He asked respect for the flag not merely as an inanimate object, but as representing the spirit of Washington, Lincoln of America.

MAY POSTPONE MEETING ON EQUITY MATTERS

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 5.—Severe weather may prevent a meeting today between committees of the former and the present boards of directors of the Equity Co-operative Packing company of Fargo. It is scheduled to be held here in an effort to reach an agreement in the suit instituted by the company against the former board of directors. Representatives of both boards expressed doubt this morning that out of town committee members would be able to reach town.

The law suit is the one instituted under the new board last August in an attempt to recover from the old board damages for "careless and negligent acts" which, it was alleged, resulted in losses of $111,000 for the equity company.

Anthony Walton of Minot was the only representative of the former board in Fargo this morning and the committee to represent that board had not been chosen.

To Suvey Coal Situation Over North West Zone

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 5.—Ivan Bowman, state fuel administrator, and chairman of the northwest states fuel committee, was requested today by C. P. White, northwest federal fuel distributor, to call a meeting at St. Paul about the middle of this month of the northwest fuel committee. The purpose of this meeting, Mr. White explained, will be to review the coal situation now existing in the northwest and to outline a plan of winter distribution. If the meeting is called for about December 15, he said, it will be about the time navigation on the lakes closes for the season and a nearly accurate estimate of coal available for distribution from the head of the lakes will be obtainable.

Minn. Highway Experts Meet

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 5.—Leaders in highway building and improvement gathered here today along with state delegates for the opening of the fourth annual meeting of the Theodore Roosevelt International Highway association. Fred N. Wolf, newspaper publisher of Newport, Wash., acting president, called the convention to order. The visitors were formally welcomed to Duluth by Mayor S. F. Snively.

Highway development and the growth and expansion of the tourist business will occupy a prominent place on the program, said A. W. Tracy, Duluth, executive secretary.

A familiar figure absent at this year's convention is the late E. J. Filintraut, Duluth, one of the organizers and former president of the association, who died recently. E. A. Cox of Lewistown, Idaho, who as first vice president automatically became president when Mr. Filintraut died, was unable to attend.

Sessions will continue through Wednesday.

CITY NEWS

Baby Girl
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Irvine of Glencoe are the parents of a baby girl born at the St. Alexis hospital yesterday.

Agency Transferred
J. E. Hoeft, district sales manager of the Underwood Typewriter company, was here today transferring the stock and affairs of the Bismarck office to Harry R. Clough. B. H. Sentenne, formerly here in 1919 and 1920, accompanied Mr. Hoeft.

Shot Through Hand
Fritz Wanner, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wanner, was shot through the left hand when a .32 calibre revolver which he was handling was accidentally discharged. Fortunately the bullet did not strike a bone as it went through the hand, and after the wound was dressed Fritz was around as usual.

Buying Much Grain
Editor Owens of the Hazen Star, in Bismarck, claims Hazen is buying more grain than any other town on the North Branch. He said the elevators there have taken in 800,000 bushels of grain already and expect to get much more. Farmers are still hauling grain as fast as cars arrive in which to ship it. Hazen is a big wheat center.

To Wed Busch

"Love at first sight," explained Miss Lotte Taucher, daughter of Mrs. Gadsdell, the prima donna, reported in her approaching marriage to Ernst Busch, grandnephew of the late Adolphus Busch of St. Louis brewing fame. European beauty and American wealth will thus be united when the wedding takes place in Berlin in June.

St. Alex's Hospital
Miss Grace Elizabeth McCoy of Regan, Miss George Zucung of the city, Miss Julia Klein of St. Anthony, Mrs. Anton Ternes of Raleigh, Miss Helen Zahn of St. Louis, Frank Dupo of Coal Bank, Mildred Stansney of Mandan, Master Bertum of Dunn Center, and Miss Dorothy Parsons of Bismarck have entered the St. Alexis hospital for treatment. Master Andrew Ubert of Dawson has been discharged from the hospital.

Thrown From Colt
Anderson Moore sustained a fractured skull about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon when he was thrown from the colt which he was riding at the farm of Leon Ferguson, 19 miles southeast of Bismarck. He was brought in to the Bismarck hospital for treatment yesterday. This morning he had not recovered consciousness. His condition is reported to be serious.

Bismarck Hospital
Mrs. Hattie Morrow of Mandan, Henry Weimer of DeSoto, Bernice Kuller of Judson have entered the Bismarck hospital for treatment. Miss Emma Kaseman of Venturia, Mike Maski of Wilton, Mrs. Jacob Bantari and baby girl of Wing, Gunnar Nelson of Kulm, Mrs. T. W. Salvin of the city, and Mrs. John Peterson of the city have discharged from the hospital.

CAPITALIZATION PROBLEM THAT FACES FARMERS

(By the Associated Press)
Watertown, S. D., Dec. 5.—Capitalization was declared to be one of the principal problems confronting the whole agricultural cooperative movement by speakers participating in the general discussion that opened the sixteenth annual convention of the Farmers Grain Dealers Association of South Dakota here today. Ninety-five percent of the farmers cooperative elevators of the state are under-capitalized, in the opinion of Charles H. Blyden of Aberdeen, who declared that cooperative enterprise cannot be a success until stockholders are willing to share losses as well as participate in profits.

The convention, with 200 registered today, will last three days.

Clothing Needed By Refugees

(By the Associated Press)
Gensan, Korea, Dec. 5.—Clothing is badly needed for the Russian refugees from Vladivostok. There are pitiable sights everywhere. Girls are out in the bitter weather without stockings or underclothing, the sleet and wind plastering their single garments to their bodies. It has been necessary to remove women and children from the steamers, but accommodations ashore are lacking.

Persons of every class are here, among them artists, musicians, and admirals.

MERCURY GOES TO 7 BELOW

Bismarck Gets First Touch of Real Winter Weather

Sub-zero weather which was reported from many weather stations in the west today included Bismarck, the weather bureau reporting that the mercury sank to 7 below last night, the coldest thus far this year. At 7 a. m. it had risen to 6 below, and the weather continued to moderate during the day.

Calgary was the coldest point on the weather map with 16 below. Other sub-zero points were: Edmonton, -8; Havre, -10; Miles City, -2; Moorhead, -10; Prince Albert, -14; Williston, -12; Winnipeg, -10.

The storm center struck the eastern part of North Dakota worse than Bismarck, Grand Forks and Fargo reporting heavier snow and lower temperatures than Bismarck. There may be slowly rising temperature Wednesday.

BANDITS BEAT CASHIER, GUARD, STEAL $8,770

(By the Associated Press)
West New York, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Three bandits today attacked the cashier of the Public Service Gas Company, and a policeman who guarded him as they left the company's offices, filled them with pistol butts and fled with a bag containing $8,770 in cash and checks calling for about $5,000.

SPARROWS NOT A NUISANCE TO BISMARCK MAN

To one man in the world at least, the English sparrow is not a pest. This man is John Homan.

Early morning patrons of the Homan establishment have learned to watch for the morning observance of "feeding the birds," when the proprietor in shirt sleeves appears at the front door and proceeds to break up a dozen doughnuts or so and scatter them on the streets.

The sparrows have been waiting, the more bold ones lined up at the curb in front of the store, the timid on the coping of the building across the street. The first handful of food is greeted with a whirl of wings and the small portions disappear rapidly. Generally some greedy member of the breakfast party attempts to carry away to some secret place some one of the larger portions and his attempts to balance and fly, with a portion of doughnut almost as large as himself or herself, generally ends in disaster, as far as the selfish bird is concerned. Occasionally, however, a large piece is transported a block or so.

Just how long the breakfasts for sparrows have been in progress none seem to know. Mr. Homan, when asked, answers "years" and the proverbial oldest inhabitant has not yet set a definite date. Some of the sparrows might tell, for some who appear for the daily meal, appear aged enough to have been present at any first meeting between the restaurant man and his friends.

A Beautiful Complexion & Admiration

Ladies—A few days' treatment with CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS will do more to clean up the skin than the beauty treatments in creation. An imperfect complexion is caused by a sluggish liver. Millions of women of young and middle age, who are suffering from skin troubles, are told to "clean up the skin" and "take them for the skin." They end the misery of constipation. Small Pill—Small Dose—Small Price.

BUTLER'S NAME AGAIN RETURNED

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 5.—The nomination of Pierce Butler of Minnesota to be an associate justice of the supreme court, which failed of confirmation at the special session of congress, was returned to the senate today by President Harding.

Holeproof Hosiery

Stockings selected for beauty need not disappoint in their wearing qualities—not if you will ask for Holeproof. For in this famous hosiery, sheer, lustrous appearance is united with a fine-spun, woven-in strength that withstands long wear and repeated launderings. Moderate prices put Holeproof Hosiery within the reach of all, both for dress and every-day wear.

We offer Holeproof Hosiery in a wide variety of styles in Silk, Wool, Silk and Wool, Silk Faced, and Lusterized Lisle for men and women.

Her City's Pride

Elizabeth Baylis, 18-year-old high school student, has entered the hall of fame in Clarkburg, W. Va., where she was proclaimed the most beautiful girl, possessing all the characteristics of Southern loveliness. "As demure, sweet and pretty as the girls of grandma's day," said the Clarkburg city fathers.

Red Cross Plans For Holiday Giving; Report on Expenses

The Red Cross is ready to furnish any local organization that plans to provide Christmas boxes for needy families with the names of those who require this assistance. If the organizations have the names of families whom they wish to remember at Christmas, the Red Cross workers, ask that these names be given to them, in order to prevent duplication and waste in giving. If they do not have names the Red Cross will gladly furnish them with the names of families who are really needy.

During the month of November a total of $211.15 was spent by the Burlington county Red Cross. This amount was distributed in the following way:

Office expenses—rent, light, supplies.....	$ 25.15
Salaries, social worker, stenographer.....	74.00
RELIEF
Clothing and shoes for children.....	44.16
Hospitalization.....	45.45
Glasses.....	5.00
Service men.....	15.00
Total.....	211.15

During the past month between 250 and 300 called for consultation advice, and various purposes at the local Red Cross office. This makes a daily average of from eight to ten calls. In addition to this the social worker makes many outside calls during each month.

The Red Cross is much interested
